That Leads Us

To Where

Who Knows Where?

Mrs. Ester Guy, School Secretary

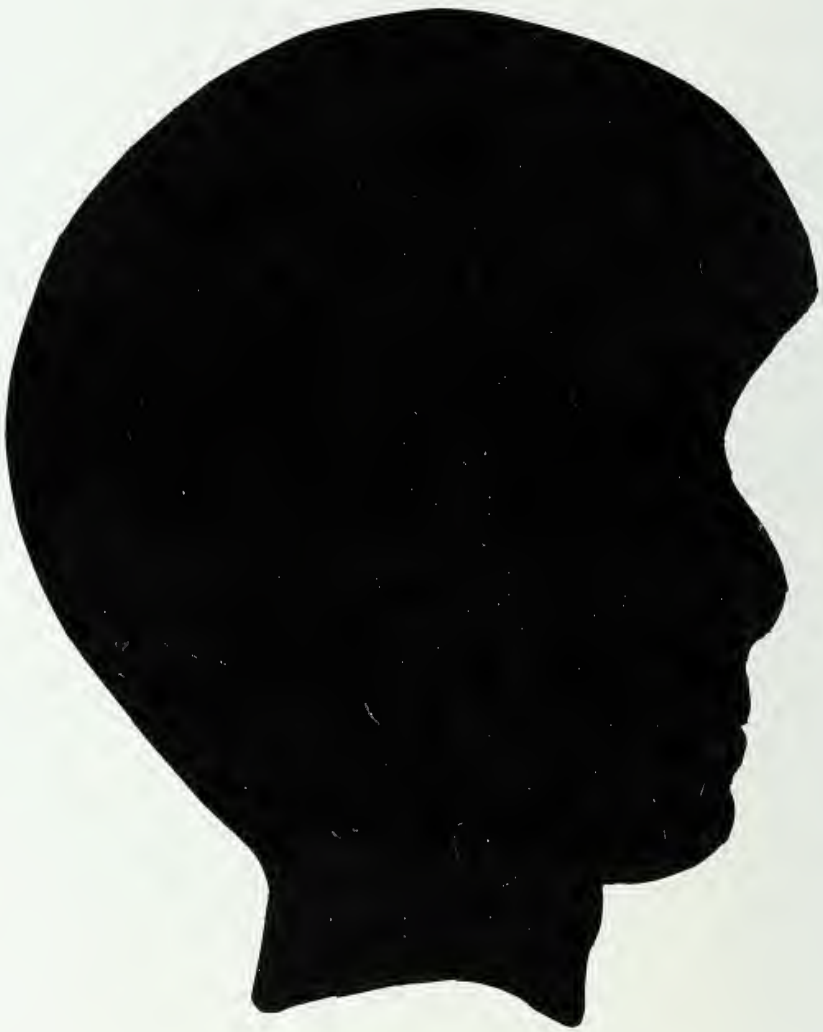

It is not too often that one finds a person so special that it becomes almost impossible to express feelings about her. We have such a person at High Point Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. Even though her job is a demanding one, she always seems to find time for a friendly chat and a reassuring smile. She makes sincere endeavors to assist each class and individual student admist her hectic daily schedule. We can easily recognize her genuine concern for every student's well-being and her lack of praise for a job so well done.

At this time, we the Senior class of High Point Memorial Hospital School of Nursing would like to say, "Thank you," by dedicating our yearbook to you, Mrs. Ester Guy.

IN APPRECIATION OF OUR PARENTS

We would like to express our many thanks and deep appreciation to the most important investors in our trip down the long and winding road of life.

Sometimes, I think, the things we see are shadows of the things to be:
That what we plan we build:
That every hope that hath been crossed,
and every dream we thought was lost,
In heaven shall be fulfilled.

If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain;
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Unto his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.

"Communication!"

"Here a charge, there a charge, everywhere a charge charge."

"I can't breathe!"

"Some kids never grow up!"

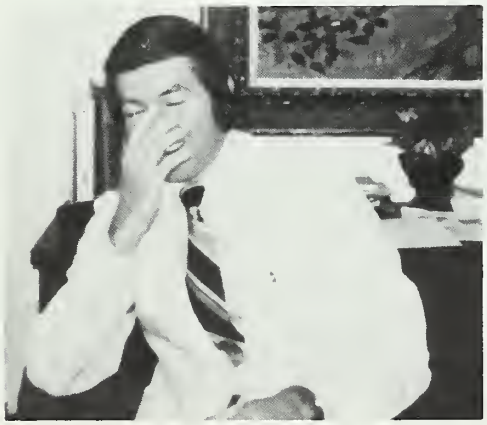

"Who wants a Fallopian Tube?"

"Wasn't that SHOCKING!"

"What's wrong with the plumbing?"

"Powder WHERE?"

"Haven't you given that enema yet?"

"Who's kissing who under the mistletoe?"

"Head 'em up and move 'em out!"

"This little piggy went to market."

"Bedpan Patrol"

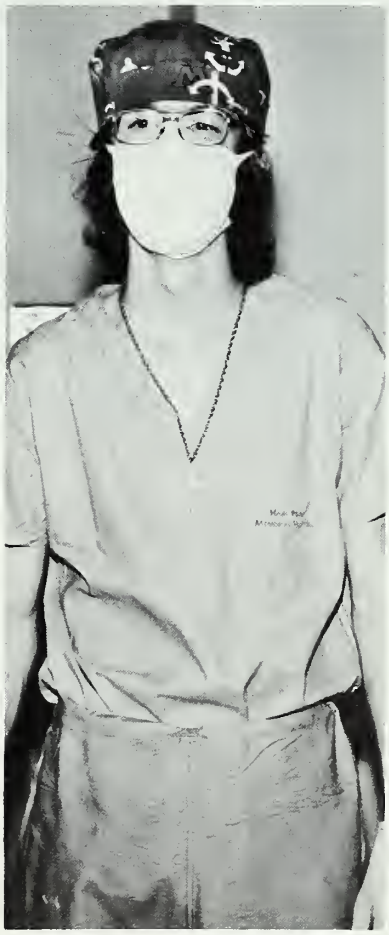

"Hello, it's me . . . ."

"Rain, snow, sleet or hail, Dr. Cross nevers fails"

THE NURSE

The world grows better year by year,
Because some nurse in her little sphere,
Puts on her apron and grins and sings,
And keeps on doing the same old things.

Taking the temperatures, giving the pills
To remedy mankind's numberless ills;
Feeding the baby, answering the bells
Being polite with a heart that rebels.

Longing for home and all the while
Wearing the same old professional smile;
Blessing the new born babe's first breath
Closing the eyes that are still in death.

Taking the blame for the intern's mistakes,
Oh Dear, what a lot of patience it takes;
Going off duty at seven o'clock
Tired, discouraged, and ready to drop.

Exams and assignments betwixt and between
With woe in her heart, but it must not be seen, morning and evening, noon and night.
Just doing it over and hoping it's right.

When we lay down our caps and cross the bar,
Oh Lord, will you give us just one little star,
To wear in our crowns with our uniforms, new
In that city above, Where the Head Nurse is you.

Author Unknown

The road is long, with many a winding turn
That leads us to who knows where, who knows where?
But I'm strong, strong enough to carry him
He ain't heavy, you see he's my brother.

So on we go . . . his welfare is my concern
No burden is he to bear, we'll get there
And I know he would not encumber me
He ain't heavy, he's my brother.

If I'm laden at all, I'm laden with sadness
That everyone's hearts isn't filled with a gladness of love for one another.

It's a long, long road from which there is no return,
But while we're on our way to there
why not share?
And the load doesn't weigh me down at all,
He ain't heavy, he's my brother.

Mrs. Brenda Bradner
